"Beautiful or large, awesome valleys are home to unconventional and quirky communities. Rural and urban locations, unique towns, period estates, villages, and hamlets, Victorian parkland, cobbled streets, and gritty back-to-back terraces that housed mill workers. Rolling hills, moors, stone walls, woodland, reservoirs, canals (the deepest lock in the UK), and the world's tallest folly! Historic character from mill owner's mansions to Shibden Hall (a medieval yeoman clothier house set in 90 acres of parkland) and industrial mill complexes such as Dean Clough and Shaw Lodge.

Calderdale has much more to offer than beauty, great views, and flat hats."

Targets

Film Calderdale's main targets include: a general income target that relates to both events and filming, general tourism figures are also taken into account .

Otherwise, their target is to build and maintain relationships with the industry and continue to raise the profile of Calderdale which is presently informally measured by media interest.

Solutions

Film Calderdale have taken out Locations and Permits, and are soon to be taking out Facilities, Production Tracking and MovieMaps. All of these modules will aid Film Calderdale through streamlined services and revolutionise management!

Future goals

Film Calderdale would love for there to be some studio space within Calderdale. They aim to develop interest in and registration to their locations offer, push boundaries, showcase Calderdale and the productions that have been supported. Calderdale will continue to develop and refresh their website, engage with social media, and will work to maintain and develop their reputation. They are adding moviemaps to target screen tourism, production tracking so that they can formally report on the economic benefits, etc. of filming and are adding 'facilities' to the production services they offer.
